OUR CIRCULATION.

E mean to keep the following paragraph stan ding for the benefit of all whom it may concern: ADVERTISING. -We would commend the following last year. The rates of Tuition being as follows facts to the attention of the advertising community. The "Wilmington Journal" circulates upwards of 12 Spelling, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, HUNDRED COPIES weekly. Its circulation in the town of Wilmington is as large as that of any other paper published in the place. We would further state that its circulation in the counties which trade to this place is THREE TIMES as large as that of any other paper published in North Carolina, and that its list is daily increasing. We say, therefore, without the fear of contradiction, For the Languages, Geometry and Surthat it is the best vehicle for advertising which the people of il mington can select. One other observation We think, that although a large majority of the readers of the "Journal" are Democrats, still THEY occasionally do a little trading, as well as the readers of the whig papers. We have written the above merely for the information of those who are most deeply interested-busigess men of all professions and all political creeds-WHO WANT CUSTOMERS.

At the recent Annual Communication of the mington, on the 31st of December, 1847. Grand Masonic Lodge of North Carolina, the Those whose names appear on this list, are following Report and Resolutions on the death equested to ask for advertised Letters, and to of Col. Louis D. Wilson were unanimously adopted: "The Special Committee, to whom was referred so much of the M. W. Grand Master's annual report as refers to the death of P. G. M. Louis D. Wilson, beg leave to report, that from the limited time allowed them from other'duties, it is almost impossible that they can do more than merely allude to that melancholy event. The Grand Lodge is already aware of the circumstances under which this heavy bereavement was brought upon us. He died in a foreign land, in the city of Vera Cruz, at the head of an army of his countrymen. Fidelity to the cause of our country, eagerness to repel her invaders, has always characterized our Fraternity. In our revolutionary struggle Masonry had her Washingtons and her Warrens. The committee are informed on high authority that every commanding General of the American army was a Mason of high standing, except one, whose sad fate is an historical fact of so much notoriety that we may say nothing more of it than merely to allude to it by way of contrast. Nor is Masonry without her gifts upon her country's altar in our present sanguinary contest with Mexico. Amongst the number of those who have learned their duty to magistrates and the supreme government at her altar, in their most solemn vows, may be mentioned the name of our most illustrious P. G. Master. What was his course when the thunders of war came to our ears? -when we learned that our nation was engaged in bloody conflict with a daring enemy? Bro Wilson left the legislative halls of his native State, repaired to his county, made up a company of volunteers over which he was chosen Captain, immediately assisted in raising another in the same county, and entered her service without delay. "Of Bro. Wilson as a Mason it is probably more pertinent that we should speak. Particularly in the active discharge of thos cardinal virtues which the precepts of our Order inculcate in every bosom, Charity was preeminent. Many incidents in his history illustrate the truth of this remark. We will tors of his species. On one occason, when provisions were exceedingly scarce in the county of Edgecombe, and want was stalking abroad in the land, Bro. Wilson generously threw open his barns and distributed two hundred barrels of corn amongst the poor of Edgecombe; donations of smaller size were continually emanating from his liberal hand. The second grand charity to which the committee allude, was the closing and crowning act of his life -- the capstone of his moral and masonic edifice-the magnificent bequest estimated at from forty to sixty thousand dol- might be well to use a stomach pump.

"As Bro. Wilson deserved, he was held high in the esteem of his county-men, and any promotion at their disposal was freely and often bestowed; in proof of which, should any be needed, we would refer to his frequent elections to the Legislature from the county of Edgecome—the fact that his mortal remains again. are to be brought home and a monument erected by contribution to his memory, over the spot where they may find their long resting Rock Spring Tent, No 190 Rogers; John W "We need hardly say that many of our ing at his grave to give vent to feelings that with some have found an outlet through more natural avenues. To many this high privilege will be denied by uncontrollable circumstances. But in order that all may share in some general expression of our grief, the committee recommend the adoption of the resolutions at the end of this report. The committee have not, as might appear to some, mentioned the acts of our deceased brother to blazon them forth in a way of vain glorious boasting; but Masonry sets no limits to the expressions of fraternal regard to the memory of a departed brother who has earned the affections of the Craft. Whenever the conduct of a brother through life so conspicuously illustrates those masonic virtues which are the pride and boast of our order, the Craft is ENGLISH, CLASSICAL, MATHE- honored, and we can with propriety gather around our own family altar, and in a spirit of emulation speak freely of those virtues. "Resolved, That this Grand Lodge will wear the usual badge of mourning (crape on of Wayne and the adjoining counties, that the left arm) for the space of thirty days, as a said, token of respect and esteem for the memory of our deceased brother. " Resolved, That this Grand Lodge recompractical and experienced Tracher, having for mend to the subordinate Lodges a similar course as soon as they obtain a knowledge of the course of the Grand Lolge. " Resolved, That the Secretary be instruc-

An Owner wanted for an Immense Estate -The old saying that " truth is strange, strange ger than fictioh," was never more forcibly iflustrated than in a case which has recently transpired in this city, and the facts of which are derived from the most respectable source. An English gentleman who has been residing for some time in this city died about two weeks ago, leaving an estate supposed to be worth several hundred thousand dollars. He left a son, the only relative that he was known to have in this country. No will was made, and the son was advised to take the usual legal steps necessary in the case, before entering upon the possession of the property as heir at-law. This he obstinately refused to do, declaring with some warmth that the property belonged to him of right-that he would consult no lawver-suffer no interferenceand that he would hold possession in defiance of all the courts in Christendom. Matters continued in this situation until Wednesday evening last, when the son was found dead in his bed-a victim of apoplexy! The immense estate is now without an owner; but we pre-sume in due time there will be claimants enough from the other side of the water. What said,

From the Washington Union. WASHINGTON, Dec. 24, 1847.

Dear Sir: I have received your letter, and shall answer it, as frankly as it is written. You ask me whether I am in favor of the acquisition of Mexican territory, and what are my sentiments with regard to the Wilmot

I have so often and so explicitly stated my views of the first question, in the Senate, that it seems almost unnecessary to repeat them ere. As you request it, however, I shall briefly give them I think, then, that no peace should be granted to Mexico, till a reasonable indemnity is obtained for the injuries, which she has done us. The territorial extent of this indemnity is, in the first instance, a subject of executive consideration. There the constitution has placed it, and there I am willing to leave it ; not only because I have full confidence in its judicious exercise, but because, in the evervarying circumstances of a war, it would be indiscreet, by a public declaration, to commit the country to any line of indemnity, which might otherwise be enlarged, as the obstinate injustice of the enemy prolongs the contest with its loss of blood and treasure.

It appears to me that the kind of metaphysical magnanimity, which would reject all indemnity at the close of a bloody and expensive war, brought on by a direct attack upon our troops by the enemy, and preceded by a succession of unjust acts for a series of years, is as unworthy of the age in which we live, as it is revolting to the common sense and practice of mankind It would conduce but little to our future security, or. indeed, to our present reputation, to declare that we repudiate all expectation of compensation from the Mexican government, and are fighting, not for any practical result, but for some vague, perhaps some philanthropic object, which escapes my penetration, and must be defined by those. who assume this new principle of national intercommunication. All wars are to be deprecated, as well by the statesman as by the philanthropist. They are great evils; but there are greater evils than these, and submission to injustice is among them. The nation, which should refuse to defend its rights and its honor, when assailed, would soon have neither to defend; and when driven to war, it is not by professions of disinterestedness and declarations of magnanimity, that its rational objects can be best obtained, or other nations taught a lesson of forbearance—the strongest security for permanent peace. We are at war with Mexico, and its vigorous prosecution is the surest means of its speedy termination, and the recurrence of such injustice as provoked it.

The Wilnet Proviso has been before the country some time. It has been repeatedly discussed in Congress, and by the public press. I am strongly impressed with the opinion that a great change has been going on in the public mind upon this subject-in my own as well as others; and that doubts are resolving themselves into convictions, that the principle it involves should be kept out of the national legislature, and left to the people of the confederacy in their respective local governments. The whole subject is a comprehensive one, and fruitful of important consequences. It would be ill-timed to discuss it here. I shall not assume that responsible task, but shall confine myself to such general views as are necessary to the fair exhibition of my opin-

We have neither the righ nor the power to touch it where it exists; and if we had both, their exercise, by any means heretofore suggested, might lead to results which no wise man would willingly encounter, and which no good man could contemplate without anxiety.

The theory of our government presupposes ting to what may be termed their internal poice. They are sovereign within their boundaries, except in those cases where they have cern foreign nations or the several States themwhether they have reference to slavery, or to of the war. way. They are just as capable of doing so. as the people of the States; and they can do so, at any rate, as soon as their political independence is recognised by admission in.o the Inion. During this temporary condition, it is hardly expedient to call into exercise a doubtful and invidious authority, which questions the intelligence of a respectable portion of our citizens, and whose limitation, whatever it may be, will be rapidly approaching its termination—an authority which would give to constitution, over most important sections of our common country. For, if the relation of master and servant may be regulated or annihilated by its legislation, so may the relation of any other condition which our institutions and the hahits of our society recognise. What would be thought if Congress should under take to prescribe the terms of marriage in New York, or to regulate the authority of parents over their children in Pennsylvania! And yet it would be as vain to seek one justifying the cases referred to in the original States of the Union I speak here of the inherent power of Congress, and do not touch the question of such contracts, as may be formed with new Of all the questions that can agitate us,

I do not suffer myself to foresee or to foretell the consequences that would ensue: for I trust and believe there is good sense and good feeling enough in the country to avoid them, by avoiding all occasions which by the admission of Texas into the Union.

'Should we acquire territory beyond the Rio Grande and east of the Rocky mountains, the people would consent to re-establish slavery. They are themselves colored population, and among them the negro does not belong socially to a degraded race"

With this last remark Mr. Walker fully coincides in his letter written in 1844, upon the measure. "Beyond the Del Norte," says Mr. Walker, "slavery will not pass; not only because it is forbidden by law, but because the colored race there preponderates in the ratio of ten to one over the whites; and holding, as they do, the government and most of the offices in their possession, they will not permit the enslavement of any portion of the colored race, which makes and executes the laws of the country."

The question, it will be therefore seen on but a prohibition against its introduction complying with the laws. where it does not exist, and where, from the feelings of the inhabitants and the laws of nature, "it is morally impossible," as Mr. Buchanan says, that it can ever re-establish it

It augurs well for the permanence of our confederation, that during more than half a century, which has elapsed since the establishment of this government, many serious questions, and some of the highest importance, have agitated the public mind, and more than once threatened the gravest consequences; but that they have all in succession passed a- scribers and receipting for any moneys due us in that way, leaving our institutions unscathed, and our country advancing in numbers, power in ancient or in modern days. Mr. Calhoun considered it a mere parl mentary move to get up a discussion of the bill before the consideration of the resolution The great point of the resolutions could be obtained by action upon the bill could not be mistaken, and he desired first all to settle the question involved in his reso. lutions—the nationality of Mexico. If his foreboding should be realized, he could belear the stability of our own government, H. should make no acknowledgements of feath to the administration; he should do what his udgement dictated as right, regardless of any dministration. Mr. Hale passed some criticisms upon the reference of the President, in his message, at to the taking of territory. He believed war to have been commenced in fraud, and prosecuted in iniquity. He preferred taking up Mr. Calhoun's resolutions first, as they de signed to say how much (if any) territory we were to take; and then consider Mr. Dick. inson's, as prescribing what were to be the terms under which we are not to receive it He was opposed to the mode of saying "the war is wrong," at the same time voting means to prosecute it. Let us first know what the President means by "an honorable peace The true object, and purport of the war, he believed to be to perpetuate the institution of slavery, and as such he desired, at some future

The steamer New Orleans will leave in the morning for your city, with a very large number of those wounded at the late battles in the valley of Mexico, and although they present a melancholy picture, with what joy will they pace their feet upon Freedom's soil once ore, and what a happy return to their friend! It is reported that Mr. Trist will reach here with an escort of cavalry, and he may bring dates from Mexico to the 16th December-one day later than has been received.

By this command we may obtain something interesting and authentic respecting the propositions which are reported to have been made by the Mexicans, to send commissioners to Havana to negotiate, although I have no idea that even if such a proposition has been made that it will be carried out, as the latest accounts from Queretaro represent affairs as being in rather an uproarious condi-

The success of Dr. Townsend's preparation of Sarsaparilla appears to be of the most extraordinary character. We publish to-day two certificates in its behalf, one from Capt. McLenn, of this town, and one from Rev. one from Capi. McLean, of this town, and one from Rev. Mr. White, of Staten Island, a gentlemsn well known in Rahway.—Capi. McLean believes the medicine to have saved his life, and Mr. White seems to entertain an equally strong confidence in its efficacy. Intelligent men like these would no praise so a rongly what they did not fully believe to descrive it.

now greatly distressed at the lungs and could hardly breatine; I soon became emaciated, and expected to die; was confined to my bed, and was obliged to have watch eis; indeed I cannot give you any description that would do justice to my case. I was supposed by my friends to be past recovery; I had tried a great number of rem edies, and all seemed to be to no purpose. I read of some most extractionary cures performed by your medicine, and to tell you the truth, I suspected there was some humbug in them. But I was induced to try it; I did so, and am very thankful I did. I cannot say that I am entirely well, but am so far recovered as to be about my business, and hope to be entirely well in a few weeks. My cough and pain in the side, and night sweats eeks. GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE. Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla is sovereign and speedy cure for incipient community in barrenness, leucorrhoa, or whites, obstructed or difficult menstruation, incontinence of arine, or involuntary discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter whether the result of the inherent causes, or produced y irregularity, illness or accident. Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects upon the human frame. Persons all weakness and lassitude before taking it, at once become robust and full of energy under its influence. It immediately and full of energy under its influence. It immediately counteracts the nervelessness of the female frame, which is the great cause of barrenness.

It will not be expected of us, in cases of so delicate a nature, to exhibit certificates of cures performed, but we can assure the afflicted that hundreds of cases have been reported to us. Several cases where families have been without children, after using a few bettles of this invaluable medicing, have been believed.

Dr. Townsend: My wife being greatly distressed by weakness and general debility, and suffering continually by pain and a sensation of bearing down, falling of the womb, and with other difficulties, and having known the womb, and with other difficulties, and ases where your medicine has effected great cures, and also hearing it recommended for such cases as I have described, I obtained a bottle of Extract of Sarsaparilla and followed the directions you gave me. In a shert time it removed her complaints and restored her to time it removed her complaints and restored her to health. Being gra eful for the benefits she received, health. Being graceful for the benefits she received, I take pleusure in thus acknowledging it, & recommending it to the public. M. D. MOORE, cor. of Grand Albany, Aug. 17. 1844.]

Dr. Townsend.—To all whom this may concern: This is to certify, that my wife used one bottle of your Sarisaparilla previous to her confinement, under the most alarming and delicate circumstances, being troubled with the dropsy, swelling of the feet, nervous affections, and very much debilitred. With my persuasion, and the recommendation of those who had used it, she was induced to try it, with little or no faith; and suffice it to say, the medicine had the happy and desired effect, not only in the hours of confinement, but after the expiration of one week of its use, the dropsy and nervous affection gave way to an astonishing degree, and her health is now better than it had been for a long time previous. If this will be of any service to you, or any, who doubts the success of the medicine, you are entirely welcome to it. Is abscribe myself your most obedient and obliged servant.
